

Privacy Notice

Fortitude U.S. Reinsurance Company (“FRC”) (formerly known as Rx Life Insurance Company)¹ values your business and your trust. We respect the privacy of your personal information and take seriously our responsibility to protect it. This privacy notice is provided on behalf of FRC and applies to our current customers. This notice describes how we treat the information we collect and receive about you, including the ways in which FRC will share your personal information.

Protecting Your Personal Information

We maintain administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect your personal information. The people who are authorized to have access to your personal information need it as described in this notice, and we require them to keep that information secure and confidential.

Personal Information We Collect

We collect your personal information from you, such as when you fill out applications and other forms, when you visit our website, access our online customer portal, when you respond to our emails, and when you provide information over the telephone. We also collect personal information that others give us about you. The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or services you have with us. This information can include:

- Name;
- Address, email address, telephone number, and other contact information;
- Employment and occupation, demographic (e.g., gender), income, and financial information;
- Social Security number;
- Driver’s license number, date of birth, vehicle information, and driving record;
- Transaction history including underwriting and claims information;
- Medical information for insurance applications;
- Consumer reports from consumer reporting agencies;
- Participant information from organizations that purchase products or services from us for the benefit of their members or employees;
- Transactional information about your transactions with us and our affiliates;
- Video and audio recordings, and biometric data; and
- Information gathered from your internet or network activity.

Using Your Information

We use your personal information for various business and insurance purposes, namely:

- Routine business purposes, such as providing services to you and administering your account or policy;
- Business research and analysis;
- Data analytics, modeling, and the deployment of automated tools;
- Detecting and preventing identity theft, fraud, or misuse of your accounts; and
- As required by law.

Sharing Your Information

We may share your personal information, including information about your transactions and experiences, among Fortitude Re², and with other companies who perform services for us or on our behalf, including, but not limited to, our primary service provider, Pharmacists Mutual Company³ (“Pharmacists Mutual”), for our everyday business and insurance purposes, such as providing services to you and administering your account or policy. We may also share your personal information with another financial institution if you agree that your account or policy can be transferred to that financial company or in the event that we enter into a transaction to sell our business.

¹ Rx Life Insurance Company (company name change to Fortitude U.S. Reinsurance Company may be pending in certain states), was acquired on January 3, 2022 by Fortitude Group Holdings, LLC.

Additional Rights for Customers in Some States

For our customers in Arizona, California, Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Virginia, and Wisconsin:

- How we collect information: Most of the personal information we collect about you comes from information that you have provided to us in your application or communications with us. In some cases, we may request information about you from other sources, such as our affiliates and service providers, or consumer reporting agencies, for business purposes.
- Disclosure of personal information: FRC may share information with third-parties under certain circumstances, such as our affiliates for everyday business purposes or for required legal reasons, without your written authorization. Please see above for more detailed information on how we share your data.
- Rights to access your information: You have the right to submit a written request to us to access the recorded personal information we have about you that we can reasonably locate and retrieve within thirty business days from when we receive your request. You can receive a description of the nature and substance of this information in writing, by telephone, or by mail. You may also see your information in person or request to have a copy of your information mailed to you. When we respond, we will also disclose to you, if we have it recorded, who we have shared your information with in the two years prior to the request, or if not recorded, the companies to whom information is normally disclosed. We will also provide you with information on how to correct, amend, or delete your recorded personal information. We may also charge a reasonable fee to cover the costs incurred in providing you with a copy of your recorded personal information.
- Rights to correct your information: You have the right to submit a written request to us to correct, amend or delete your recorded personal information, except information that relates to a claim or to a civil or criminal proceeding. Within 30 business days from when we receive the request, we will inform you of our decision on your request. If you disagree with our decision, you will be able to file a concise statement explaining why you disagree and what you think is the correct information.
- Insurance support organizations: Additionally, information that we may get from a report prepared by an insurance support organization, which provides information to insurance companies, may be kept by the insurance support organization and disclosed to others.

For our customers in Vermont:

- We will not disclose information about your creditworthiness to our affiliates and will not disclose your personal information, financial information, credit report, or health information to nonaffiliated third parties to market to you, other than as permitted by Vermont law, unless you authorize us to make those disclosures.

⁴ Pharmacists Mutual to confirm that, consistent with the GLBA, it will not use customer data for its own purposes, including for marketing.

To file a written request to exert any of these rights, please send written correspondence to PO Box 370, Algona, IA 50511 or email: pmca_ih@phmic.com that provides us with a means to contact you.
